Total running time: 1:26. Box has “Robin Artus 804 6526” written on it

DD044 – D.D. 5

Starts very familiar. Definitely Doctor Who sound effects. Especially around 8:00-

DD045 – Lowell 1. Lowell Tape 1

Opens with sting

Rumbling atmosphere. Around 2:00 lampshade enters. Fade 4:34

4:49 – very low rumbling with creaking. Ends 6:00

6:10 – creaky! Like a ship in a storm, with wind. 6:50, tone enters against the wind sound and heartbeat. At 8:40. everything but heartbeat drops out

8:45 – high buzzing against wind and watery sound. Ends 11:10

11:15 – restarts last cue. Ends 13:25

13:30 – electronic chord progressions, buzzy. fade 16:23

16:30 – slow moving electronic progression (not as chordal; two part) ends 19:21

20:15 – pulsing with whooshing in background. Pulses like a heartbeat. Quietly, drone enters and remains. At 22:10 another more abrasive sound builds in the background against the drone and heartbeat. Fades starting at 24:10. Ends 24:32

24:47 – quick cut, something on the tape before (must be accidental)

25:20- creaking with wind background. Irregular heartbeat grows in background. 26:53 lampshade appears in background. Fade 27:42

27:58 – pulsing loud heartbeat alone. Evolves into complex rhythm by 33:00. ends 34:21

32:00 – singing major third progression (after long pause), with harmonies in background.
33:27 – singing major third progression, now with additional voice in background in harmony, lower. The harmonies are more pronounced here.
34:37 - percussion
Switches to 15ips
Mozart! “La ci darem” from The Magic Flute, echoed, followed by the original, ripped from an album
Buzzing, with pulsing buzzing over it.
Delia and Brian singing, Brian saying “Sorry!” when he flubs it.
Brian and Delia singing dissonant intervals, sustained
Harmonica, star spangled banner.

DD053 Various Synth

1. fast moving synthy tune. Bass line, white-noisey percussion, melody, and quieter alto part. Ends 1:13
2. 1:19 Dudley sounding bass line (sounds like season 8) with percussive treble elements. 3:19 fade
3. 3:25. more abstract synthy. Not dudley sounding. More Hell House sounding. Builds to climax and stereo bass in octaves. 4:25 fade. Stereo
4. 4:34 liquid bass line. “Viol” like melody with plonky synth line in call and response. Another synth line appears over the viol melody later. Carefully mixed stereo. 6:25
5. 6:30 Stone Tape like opening. Various atonal synth lines, but melodic and pitched. Square waves. Stereo. 8:17 end

6. 8:22 Dudley sounding synthi plonkings. Melodic descending chromatic progression. 9:50
7. 9:55 melodic synth tune. Melody, bass line and chords. Stereo. Cuts off at 10:32

DD054 – voices

Man and wife speaking (contains the “He Loathes you” passages used in DD047)

DD055 – I Loathe you

Short excerpt of spoken dialog

DD056 – I Loathe you

Dialog between mother and father. Occasionally, the child says “I loathe you”

DD057 – I Loathe you

Longer excerpt of dialog

DD058-59 films

DD060 – Synthi

Recorded at 7.5ips. The label on the tape suggests this, but it is a little unclear if the WHOLE tape should be 7.5.

Starts with one sound. Layers are then added upon this of the same sound. Like vibrating string that has been slowed down. This then gets mixed up into a very complex, noisy pattern.

Very slow fade at end (over two minutes)

Total time 19:16

DD061 – copy of Doctor Who sent to Enterprises 9/12/63

DD062 – “Ways of Seeing – Many Takes”

Synth. Based on JS Bach two part invention 13.

Suddenly switches speed after 5th take from 15ips to 7.5ips. (I changed the speed in the dub)

12 takes total.

DD063 – George Newson Concert, Radio Recording

Newsom taught at Goldsmiths Electronic Music Studio, 1970-72

Wrote “The Man Who Collected Sounds” for BBC in 1964 (Tx 1966) dir by D.

Cleverdon, TRW 6192, 7065. Delia prepared the electronic tape for this production (and Germany)

1. “This Gap of Time” (1968)

Based on A Winter’s Tale

Fl, ob, cl, tpt, trb, perc, vc, db. 8 minutes

2. “Alan’s Piece Again” – for Alan Hacker. Solo bass clarinet and 4 track tape. Studio fonologia helped put the tape together. In 1 movement divided into 3 sections.

3. “[something] ensemble”. Speed changes for this piece from 15ips to 7.5 written in 66 but revised for this broadcast (1970)
3 movements. Originally called concerto for percussion and 8 instruments.

DD064 Amor Dei makeup

1. untreated female chanting (skips on tape)
2. :27 fast forward soundings
3. :34 straightforward version of chanting with no echo or treatment

  6. london lemons
  7. restless relays
  8. new synthesizers “some of the sounds you'll be hearing in the seventies”
  9. again “here are some of the sounds you'll be hearing in the seventies” cuts off

DD067 – Long Piece, titles, flutey. Dramatic Organ stuff.

This doesn't sound like Delia. Synth. Sounds like Delaware with other organ sounds added.

First piece ends 2:35

First piece repeated. Ends 4:46

5:24 – synth sound effects. Stingers. Ends 7:11

7:35 – repeat

9:40 – mysterious flutey melody. Ends 13:15

13:56 – synth melody played with rhythmic counter in background. Ends 15:56

16:00 – random computer blips, sound effects

16:35 – repeat of synth melody played with rhythmic counter in background. Repeated again. Ends 20:50

DD068 – Singing Waters voice tape (see DD026)

Reading of poem from DD026 with no treatment, many times.

Just like in DD026, the synth noodling is at the end.

DD069 – Singing Waters Treatment tape (see DD026)

Treated version of voices

DD070 Blue Veils Flute

Flute, up to three at a time, playing simple melodies. One more prominent than the others

Total time: 1:43

DD071 Delian Mode

Longer version of the original track

Exactly the same (commercial version is 5:35) and then continues on past the commercial version's end for another 2:30.

DD072 – Call Sign?

Many takes of short tune, and broken into various elements

DD073 – Good Sinister Background

Fantastic extended track, with lampshade elements.

DD074 – sci fi sounds

End contains dramatic chords from earlier reel

DD075 Brief Lives [TRW 6792?]

Note on tape says “taken from Pat” – Patrick Garland was Producer of TRW 6792. TX 6/5/68, 9.15pm, BBC2 Colour

Sounds like Brian singing

“reminiscences of John Aubrey (1626-1697), one is paying a visit to an old man who makes up for absence of friends by recalling them all” Show originally starred Roy Dotrice.

DD076 – IIE100 Makeup

Inc. Morse and archive recordings, Gladstone etc. Ref. TRW 7397

DD077 –Relays

Tape says 7 ½, but I've transferred at 15.

DD078 Male Drone

0:00 - :08 false start

:10 – 1:16 long low drone, sounds like trumpet in background. “men's” voices build in background

DD079 – Cilla on the moon

Random collection of cues, including Ziwzee, mouse on the moon

DD080 Early kaleidophon Demo (tracks listed on label)

1. London Lemons twice
2. :19 Who Is theme 3 times “Fresh Aire” from Tomorrow People
3. Way out?
4. 2:23 Who Is theme twice
5. 2:54 Bank, twice
6. 3:07 Bank, twice
7. 3:20 electronic, twice
8. 3:36 descending electronic pattern, varied once
9. 4:02 London Lemons twice
10. 4:18 moogies bloogies, stops and starts. Begins again. Ends 7:25
11. 7:54 wobulator sounding, rises and echoes

- 9:04 cuts quickly to electronic bass line, and concrete rhythmic pattern slightly blurry, coming into focus (same as other pot au feu rhythm), tape sped up gradually.
- Clears to sine bloopy arpeggiations, then morphs (quite nicely) into moogies bloogies! No vocals, just electronics. Variations on moogies bloogies, and rhythm pattern (not part of the finished song) returns, sped up.
- 12:43 – pot au feu both rhythm and bass, without top stings from that track. New melody
- 14:18 pot au feu rhythm continues, sort of, but with ocean waves now, and subdued arpeggiations. Rhythms die out, just waves and arp.
12. 15:28 – White Noise. “Without sound”
13. 18:32 major scales, simple melodies and “mattachin”-like percussion underneath
14. 20:48 – Familiar Sounding Tune? White Noise?
15. 23:00 – rhythms. Machine sounding. (Elec Engineers Exhibition? Chalk Farm? 24:25 “melody” enters, coordinated with the rhythms, sounding like random pitches above the increasing speed of the white noise rhythms. Whole thing repeats, and very interesting. Ends 29:18

DD081 – Master

Trumpet with treated background. Tape says “tail out”, but it’s the right way round. Beautiful

DD082 – Master Foreground 1

More trumpet playing (DD081) but without treatments. You can hear voices in the background.

DD083 – Master Foreground 2

Trumpet with treatment (DD081)

DD084 Paddy Kingsland “Tamariu” from 4th dimension LP, copy master with count-in)

DD085 Shortwave Listener’s Corner

Introduced by Dorothy Logan, TRW 6166 or 6300

The proms are 70. (this dates the programme to 1965)

Laurence Spicer interviews DD. She demonstrates sine waves, square waves, wobulator, white noise. She plays Arabic Science and Industry (contains wobulator and square waves)

Shortwave listener’s corner theme. SWLC in Morse

DD086 – low strings, etc

Label says, “low strings, Ships work, african xylo, finger cymb, knocking”

DD087 – big bell (lots of labels)

DD088 – random sound effects (multicolourtone organ?)

DD090 – Penderecki 7 ½

DD091 – untreated “listen to the sound” vocals

DD092 – flutey treatments

Starts with treated flute, then is original flute session untreated. 24 minutes total.

DD093 – London Bridge, ARP synthesizer

DD094 edits (first section)

Guns. Ogron guns? Dudley Simpson synth sounds.

2:22 rhythmic section begins, wobulator, with mechanical sounds added. 3:42 ends.

3:48 space sounds, Brian Hodgson “Attack of the Alien Minds”

backwards sounds and voices

5:39 synth octaves and glissandi ends. 6:33

DD094 edits (second section)

:01- readings from bible. With echo added (in stereo)

trumpet playing (not old one, but new)

4:50 “and all that guff” looped, with radiophonic background ala gavin bryars. 6:00 end

6:07 synths glissandi

6:30 synth bass lines (deffo Dudley)

7:10 Dr. Who synth glissandi end 8:56

DD095 – miscellaneous things, throughout long tape. Needs indexing

DD096 – Pilot Piano Master, 7.5

Very small reel.

Solo piano music

1:33 M2 take one – dissonance on piano, series of dissonant chords, quietly played

M2 take two – dissonance on piano

5:11 next take (with echo added)

6:30 – next take with no echo, with “nani nani booboo”

7:25 – next take (with delia’s voice, sounding a bit tipsy!)

8:20 – M5 take 2, then slower version of tune.

DD098- Lyre Treatment

Echo and treated sounds. Roars at end

DD099 – R/Port OB Rough Finals

Beginning is possibly meant to be 7 1/2. Recorded whole tape at 15ips, until 17:30, when the tape moves to 7 ½ during jazz. Followed by news report.

Lots of noodling. Dies Irae, other melodies

DD100 – “2001 chord” and other labels (short tape)

DD101 – Delia Tapes Transferred to small reels

Tape one: Kook copy – English speech loops

Sexy single mouth

Sexy boat mouth

DD102 – Delia Tapes 2

Treated whispering, interesting clockwork patterns

Returns to song with flute, then back to treated sounds, with chime sounds

DD108 – rising tones

15" electronic, long echoey pitches, overlapping.

DD109 “Delaware” Doctor Who theme bits

Makeup elements for Delaware version of the theme

5:50 – voice “714 to crowd control receive another”

versions with many more echoes than in final

DD110 – Various!

DD111 Dance from Noah makeup

:00- individual fragments of melody.

:52 quatermassy sounds, and counter melody line elements

1:45 low elements, what sounds like experiments with synth bass lines for Noah. Then complete lower melody
2:40 bass elements, bass line complete. (sounds a bit like Paddy's "Whale")
3:14 rhythm track
4:10 sound effect, then back to rhythm track
5:54 sound effect sound, but with melody, then back to rhythm track
10:20 ORCHESTRAL Drums! Then back to rhythm track!
Essentially, then, 11 minutes of rhythm track. It isn't a simple loop, but varies. It alternates between three without echo and three with, but not regular, sometimes it skips a beat

DD112 – G Macbeth Speech
Discussion of 1970 Science Fiction film festival
Brian Aldiss, voice
"A modest atmosphere with monsters"
Just the intro!!! Where's the rest!!???

DD113 – Amazing complex sound painting
Includes speaking, music. Opening rock section that is spliced together in very complex and seamless ways.

DD114 – harp mat.
Lots of harp with echo

DD115 – VP (VA)
Unidentified synths, simple tune with reverb. In different keys, slowed down and sped up. Sounds like a short sig tune.

DD117 – Bell-like material

DD118 Dance from Noah
Melody, with different bass line. Simpler and with no rhythm track.
42 seconds long

DD119 – plucky harpy things

DD120 – unidentified sig tune "sig of something"
Recorded at 15"

DD121 – Copy of? (BH label) – tail out
Undetermined speed. Electronic Piece. Recorded both 7 ½ and 15ips

DD122 – No label, Unidentified rhythmic piece
Rhythmic track followed by Tomorrow People-type music.
Then dance of Noah

DD123 – synthi stuff (unlabeled)
See DD126 (sounds like elephants!)

DD124 – copy thin master long and short
Bach. Masters followed by separate bass and top lines

DD125 – Crescendos

DD126 – no label (synthi stuff, as DD123)

DD127 – high synthi line (very short)

DD128 – high synthi line (very short)

DD129 – “Work is...” loops

DD130 – Unidentified Rock Music
Same as DD131, guitar blues jamming, no vocals.

DD131 – More unidentified rock music
Blues rock, no vocals, just jamming. 15ips

DD132 – Interview with Anthony Mendleson, costume designer (The Boys from Brazil).

DD134 – Media, 1st working tape
3 tam-tams, 4 medea speeches, 7.5 Kaleidophon box

DD135 – Dietrich (15ips)
Marlene Dietrich, Time on my Hands

DD136 – No Label (15ips)
Unidentified electronic music (brassy sounds) Kaleidophon? Vorhaus?
Tune played twice, then elements broken down
Then gentle melody, like a call sign, played twice

DD137 – Atmos Indian Macbeth
Various sounds inc. Dalek Corridor. Heartbeat wind

DD138 – Various classical recordings
Timings all over the place. Mostly tail out and 3 ¾. Some 7 ½?, some reversed. Separate channels as well. Needs sorting. Bach organ music (Tocatta and Fugue in D Minor, passacaglia, etc.)

DD139 – C-W&T Lion Basic Voice - 1st group (Mike)
Voice treatment of the same short speech. At end, all the original untreated versions and vowel sounds, whispered and spoken.

DD140 – Radio Brighton Train Idents

TRW 7341 Ideas. Memo in box

From RW, Rm 8, MV Extn 277

Sub Enclosed Tape, Radio Brighton, Train idents

To Bob Gunnell, Manager, RB 30.1.71

Here is a 7 ½ ips copy of six preliminary ideas. Myself, I feel that something on the lines of the last two would be the best idea to pursue.

I shall be interested to hear your comments on these, and whether you have any ideas on a different style or form.

Delia Derbyshire

DD141 Newley 1 of 3

:00 – 3:29 Moogies Bloogies. Straightforward song.

3:30 MB begins with second chorus then into speaking part. only left channel.

5:48 MB No vocals, different opening. Missing whistling melody line, just support, at beginning. Ends 8:20

8:24 MB Instrumental track, no vocals. Ends 10:56

11:06 MB Instrumental track. No vocals. Ends 13:32

13:40 MB end 15:47

15:54 MB opens right with Newley vocals section, “It’s raining,” different at 17:38-17:47 ends 18:21

DD142 Moogies Bloodgies – A.Newley 2

Make-up tape. Very Fragile.

Contains all the elements for the song from the beginning. Each spliced version, then the edited version, next to each other. Splices very sticky and unstable. Repairs made

DD143 – Cloud 1 of 2, Moodgies Bluedgies 3 of 3

Opens with a man speaking. 1:00, music from “The Dreams” briefly.

Ends 20:19

Moodgies Bluedgies follows after

DD144 – C-W&T Lion Basic Voice – 1st Group (Mike)

M/u and treatments. Unit Delta Plus box

Opens with brief echoey flute

“We did it, we won the battle” speech, by a different actor. Turns out it’s a motor oil commercial. Still a bad American accent. Followed by a series of accents. New York, Sergeant Major, posh, etc.

DD145 Brian’s Backgrounds

:00- simple pitches, repeated at intervals an octave above in unsynchronized loops, and irregular pulse underneath (Capsule Oscillation: Dalek Destructor Fuse/Bomb Countdown), but extended.

1:06 explosion (thunder)

1:21 space texture (used in Dr. Who) stereo, tomorrow people

3:34 blubs gloops, like water, and wind. Ends 5:44
5:44 continues after the fade at 5:44, with swoops, fades again at 6:06
6:09 control room sounding bleeps and blips, turns into atmospheres
11:30 whooshing sounds start (but still one continuous track from before)
13:00 returns to opening space texture, but sped up slightly. Ends 14:15

DD146 – Oh White Woman – speech tape
Funny french dialog

DD148 – One Under the Eight – stereo mix
Master 15” George Newsom, electronic piece, reduced from 4track.
<http://www.jstor.org/view/00274666/ap030781/03a00360/6?frame=noframe&userID=82583db8@man.ac.uk/01cce4406000501c106da&dpi=3&config=jstor>

DD149 – Methuseleh 3 copy 7.5
Opens beautifully, with speech and sounds effects, whooshing. “Go HOME!” ends 1:14
1:20 – vocoder rhythmic pattern. 3 or 4 tape loops simultaneously. End 2:02
2:06 – Lilith monologue: “they have accepted the burden of eternal life” with slight echo.
Ends 7:54
7:57 – complex hum with overtones, gradually acquiring new pitches and beats. Channels drop out, and enter. Ends 15:15
15:20 – atmosphere, repeated loop. (tomorrow people?)

DD150 – ½ track Mozart Clarinet Quint
Terrible condition, mono live concert

DD151 – unidentified voices. Parmentier. Metric Micrometric.
The two channels are different, need to be separated. Right channel reversed

DD152 – Military Band
Opens with reverse rock song, then military band
Jimmy Howard, Scots Guards
Put rock song at end in correct order.

DD153 – no label (15ips)
Vcs3 wibblings. Tape mostly blank (edited to remove)

DD154 – 7 ½ Speech
“oh fat white woman” starts with slow organ music
Frances Cornford “To a fat lady seen from the Train”
Interesting vocal treatments on an abstract scene.
8:00 – organ returns (on tape before?)
“Oh fat white woman” starts again organ chords between each little speech. Does this help with the treatment?

DD160 Egypt Programme 1 (TRW7529)

1. master opening titles (with Delia speaking) :21 – 1:09
2. 1:11 “forget about this, for interest only, sent to radio enterprises, 2 and ¼ minutes” it’s like titles, but fades into atmospheric track at 2:17 ends 3:51
3. M1 of Egypt 1. “rather more than you need, 2:30 minutes” 4:18 Atmospheric track, like abstract bells tolling, pitched.
4. M2 and M3 “starts at 820 feet, runs to 875, starts again at 889-925, one long cue, with paul’s approval” “Im afraid you’ll have to choose your bit, I’ve given you 3 minutes.” 7:56 – this music is from Amor Dei, first section! 14:27

8:23 – melodic atmosphere, with background.
8:45 “we are the music makers and we are the dreamers of dreams” with fiddle.
9:45 – bach air sped up slightly followed immediately by Back on the piano, with strings and singer
11:23 – pot au feu
11:50 – “Good day sunshine” by the beatles, treated with echo and wobbly reverb

13:15 – tomorrow people atmosphere, with speaking in background

13:50 – end of RW track??? Which one? It's slipping my mind

back to Beatles

17:10 – descending humming

DD184 – ICI Fashion Show Makeup tape 1 copy

7 1/2ips

DD185 – ICI Fashion Show Makeup tape 2 copy

Sound effects. Mainly reused from other sources to be identified

Label says 7 1/2, but correct speed is 15"

Speed changes at 3:45 to 7 1/2

Extra reverb added to some familiar tracks

DD186 – Bank Extracts from tape a

Rock song "She's Tiny"

Followed by carefully spliced sound effects, with leader separating each cue

DD187 – Unused Bank Prelim

Computer blippy. Recorded at 7 1/2. Voices in the background.

Interview afterward with French actor.

DD188 – Frankie Howerd, Way Out

VERY fragile. Lots of awkward leaders, and entrances. Makeup with lots of splices.

Repaired along the way.

DD191 I Have Decoded You

W/ Newley. Backgrounds. The melody is doubled by both vocals and electronic line.

Ends 1:39

1:40 – repeated "I have decoded you" identically

DD192 – String Quart.(david W) (66): Film Music (electronic) 67

DD193 – SF copy masters BTR 2

Pot au feu elements. (not spliced)

DD194 – The Cloud 2 of 2, F. Chagrin. S. Brown

Recorded at 7 1/2 because the speech that follows the animal noises is at that speed, but

I'm not convinced it shouldn't be 15"

Opens with electronic animal noises, wolf howls, etc.

Tape very fragile at end, made numerous repairs.

DD195 – London Lemons Master

Various elements of London Lemons, in different keys

DON'T PLAY: VERY STICKY

Newley

DD197 Wendy Jones, Throat Cancer

DD198 – On the Level Demo Mus

DD199 – Work is a four letter word

DD200 – Who is Master MU

Fascinating example of Delia keeping everything. All makeup for this brief track is here. She calls it “treated ripple”

DD201 Brighton Festival: Labyrinth and Beachcomber

1. “Delian Mode” – longer version as seen in DD071, but fades at 7:53
2. 7:54 rhythmic track. Three layers. Related to “Pot au Feu” (same rhythm track). Waves added towards the end. Identical to section 11 of DD080, but doesn’t end, continues instead with guitar and xylophone with waves in background. (Beachcomber?) at around 12:35 the “Pot au Feu” rhythm returns. Then, 12:28 (at what was 9:04 of DD080), the section that morphs into Moogies Bloogies appears. Just like there, the fast rhythm then reappears, speeding up, but now fades at 16:15

DD202 Pollock 2 bands

Paper in Box says “Sound Negative Report” 21.2.74

Prod. Company, 8, 9, 10

8. “Air” 8:19 ends
9. “Ziwih Ziwih OO-OO-OO” ends 9:57
10. “Science and Health (Mike’s Choice)” Distorted and treated with reverb and extra sounds.

DD205 – high flootey stuff

Slow moving treble patterns

DD206 Top Gear (John Peel) (is this TRW 7098? It’s missing if so)

:00 Stereo, slow synth lines. Diatonic pedals.

:49 John Peel’s voice enters. His voice is treated outrageously,

2:18 voice emerges untreated

2:31 voice with echo returns, and cut and pasted in different order. Replays the same texted section with different treatments

4:03 untreated JP talking, completely untreated. (you can hear Brian’s voice in background)

4:39 reassembled tape, leading into the first version of the tape without treatment.

5:54 opening music (slow synth lines) – no voice. Ends 8:10

8:10 extreme vocal treatment and electronic processing. Ends 9:21

9:24 electronic opening music again

10:14 extreme vocal treatment and electronic processing.

11:25 electronic opening music again

13:11 new electronic music, with what sounds like a plucked guitar. Ends 14:10
14:15 test tone for pitch-raising, followed by voice treatment, with the voice rising.
15:32 electronic melody, with echo, then with vibrato, descending.
16:04 repeating electronic loop (like Buchla)
16:54 lower pitched texture, like slowed down sirens with wind blowing
